NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, Dec. 10, 1838. GENERAL GRANT is making the round of the hotels. His last s'ay in New York was made at the Metropolitan. His present one is at the St.

On Tuesday-as I stated he would-he did several things remarkably weil. In the morning he went to A. T. Sewart's new store, and did that up in no time. Mr. Stewart gave him a rice warm shawl for Mrs. Grant, and a pair of gloves all round for the little Grants. Whe her Mr. Hewart took him to lunen I can't say; but if he did he dre won the eashier probably for fifty cents, and returned to the cashier what was left after the lanch was

This, I understand, is A. T. S.'s manner of dones.

General Grant then went to the wedding o Colonel Benjamin with the daughter of the Hon. Hamilton Pish.

He then went to the St. Nicholas, and was called upon until five o'clock. He then drove to the Union League Clab, and was dised upon until an apprapriate bettime.

The substance of his speech was that he thought be had set one good example to he countrymen-that of ignoring the talent of public speech making.

Mr. John R. Young, who from baving once been a protege has risen to be a prowess, made a neat and nervous response to the toast "The Union Press,"

On Tuesday afternoon the case of

COMMODORE MEADS. came up before Judge Satherland of the Su-

The commencement of the examination of Dr. Brown, the presiding physician of the Bloomingdale Lunatic Arytum, and of Dr. Halsteadwho had been chosen by the Court to go ther and examine in o the Commodore's cale, was very unsat s'actory to such of the Commo jore's friends as happened to be present.

These two physicians, who may be perfectly harmless and conscientious specimens of the "commonplace" man so happily described by Charles Reade, or who may not be, gave their evidence in a cautiously low voice.

So low, indeed, that only the Judge heard them, and the cars of reporters were stretched

It will consequently be bad for Dr. Brown or Dr. Haisted if these outraged gentlemen of the press can get the opportunity of sending them up.

Commodore Meade has been imprisoned at Bloomingdale, for so it may be called, for nearly two months. Companionship with mad nen has often proved enough to turn straight minds awry.

But the Commodore has apparently come forth unscathed. He has dwelt among these maniacal roses without being one of them.

As the examination progressed the ruthless relatives of the Commodore grew realy to swallow Paris green with despair.

Finally, Judge Sutherland, who is jovial as well as judicial, pronounced the Commodore save, and as a goarantee for his belief in his sanity, offered to take him home to his own

At this point, however, some true friends of the Commodore stepped forth, their faces oozing over with hospitality. They took him home with them, and there they killed the fatted turkey-gobbler, and poured the oil of gladness on his bead.

To leave this sphere of highly figurative and impassioned language, let me remind you that

"HESTER VAUGHANIANS" of New York have not the best kind of sister-feeling with those of Philadelphia. Pennsylvania naturally feels aggravated that

New York should have put her oar in. The City of Brotherly Love entertains an affectionate and highly creditable haired against the city of Gotham (which last word the facetiously profene pronounce with a d instead of a th), for having interfered. Elizabeth Stanton has returned highly pleased with the current of events. But she is not usually fend of picking such currents when events do not happen her way. She was received by Sister Susan with open arms on the threshold of the Revoution office. and there was a succession of stage embraces in sight of the City Hall Park.

The opinion of the New York Hester-Vaughanians, however, is that Sister Stanton has been snubbed by Brother Geary, with a perfection of which even Chesterfield would have approved.

A NEW INSTITUTE OF LETTERS AND ARTS is about to be organized. It is to const-t of a number of academies, each of which is to be composed of not less than thirty memoers and not more than two handred.

The Academies at present ordered to be es tablished are those of Letters and Fine Arts: History and Philology; the Metaphysical and Ethical Sciences; the Mathematical, Physicals and Mechanical Sciences; the Political, Social' and Legal Societies; the Natural and the Medical Sciences.

Mr. T. A. Rothermel, of Philadelphia, waelected a member of the Counc.L

and Coroner Figura will ever be triends again is a question now agitaring Gotham to its centre-The tug of war came before these two Greeks had the pleasure of personally confronting each

Kennedy, who would make a good study for one of the picture que plots of Wilkie Collins novels, put himself upon his "dig," (offum cum digni ale, see quotation appendix to "Webster's Unabridged"), and tailed to appear in propria persona (see same source) before Coroner Flynn, to answer the charge of having unlawfully retained the clothes and property of Mrs. Gatewood, the kleptomaniac suicide. As Kennedy had made up his mind to retain the trunks, he had left them I cked up at police beadquarters when he started torth at moon last Saturday to attend Coroner Flynt's betes!. A:

he stepped forth, his det clive postrile in orm him of the presence of that traditional rat which is supposed to be floating in the air until its carthly career is terminated by his being nipped

In brief, he bethought I im that this summons of Coroner Flynn's was merely a ruse to get possession of his person and incarocrate him over Sunday, when of course, the courts would be closed, and hope for release would be vain. The Coroner of course would inquite why the trunks were not forthcoming; would have and fret at their not forthcomitg; would browbeat and oblicerate Super nienden! Keuned; for their not for hooming; in short, would erder the Superintendent to the kidridge street Jail—and all breause a few harmless tranks were not forthcoming!

Now Mr. Acton being Presiden of the Boar! of Poil e, and chief triend to Kennedy, and seeing all these tribes as plain as a mac-stell, said to Kenordy, "I have business for you in Philade Ipnia."

And his is the way that a very nice S sperin tendent was warking the atrees of the Quaker Cut whilst Coroner Flynn was cating his dinner as well as a Coro er caught in his own snare could be expected to do.

The company chartered by the last Legislature to construct a

TUNNEL UNDER EAST RIVER is making pr parations to proceed with that Corridering the multitudes that pass and repass night and morning between this city and Brook'rn, it is remarkable that this tunnel enterprise has not been pushed to completion long since.

The late Ful on Ferry disaster has intensified the in erest which the intensely bitter weather of last wn br reawakened.

The ferry companies, it is said, provent the construction of the iong-taiked of bridge. But not care about the compart of a tunnel, we do not care about the compart of a bridge. There are only two poverties in the way of an usements. These are Les Broaras (an Offenbuchian opera bouffe, or course). which was produced by Buchian for the first time last evening, but which other engagements prevented my attending, and an
